

- §§ Home
- § Church Board
- § About Us
- § Online Manuals
- § Worship Services
 - Services
 - Recent Sermons
 - Older Sermons
 - Recordings of past services
- § Ministry
- § Social Action
- § Adult Education
- § Children's Classes
- § Social Events
- § Communications
- § Newsletters
- § Church Groups
- § Job Vacancies
- § SWAP

THIS I BELIEVE —Zachary Carter

shanti om.
What if John Lennon almost got it right: Love is all there is, love is all there is. Om shanti

What if we are meant to be truth-sayers and lovers of beauty and it's all beautiful?

What if this is a dream I/we/the ONE is having NOW?

What if NOW is all that is real?

separate so we can love and appreciate and dance with each other.
are me. And just for now, we are forgetful, blind to this reality, so we can get into being

What if we are one, the one, The One? Not just an idea, but a reality. I am you and you shanti om. Om shanti shanti om.

One. Buddha is. I am who am, and the Live Oak tree on 2th street saves. Om shanti

What if it's all true? Lord Krishna dances with the gopis; yes, Jesus loves me; Allah is the desired by anyone, including Bill Gates, including the beetles in your back yard.

experience-thought-feeling-desire-notion ever ever experienced, thought, felt, believed, What if when we die, whatever that is, we get it ALL. I mean ALL of it. Every bit. And again, we just are too blind to know that, too? good things happen. What if it IS all good? Every last bit, even the hardest of the hardest